Method & caveats

What this is

The 42 rows from consumer-family-offices-2535a442.xlsx whose email we could NOT prove ourselves, run through Clay's "Work Email" waterfall (11 providers: Findymail, Hunter, Prospeo, Kitt, Datagma, Wiza, Icypeas, Enrow, Dropcontact, LeadMagic, SMARTe) in Rahul's own Clay workspace on 15 Sep 2026.

The 33 addresses already SMTP-proven live were NOT re-run. Nothing was emailed to anyone at any point; this was enrichment only.

Confidence wording

The "Clay's own validation wording" column carries Clay's label verbatim. All 28 returned addresses carry "Valid email" — its validation step's own word. Nothing was upgraded by us.

Clay rejects catch-alls: on WECO, Hunter returned an address tagged "(status: accept_all)" and Clay's validator answered "Invalid email", so that row is blank rather than a guess.

Corrections this run produced

Freston Ventures: the domain is frestonventures.co.uk, not the .com we had been probing. That is why every pattern we tried died.

Strawberry: kenneth@, not kenneth.andersen@ — our guessed shape was wrong.

Randev: shashank@247vc.in — a different domain entirely to the one on file.

Ravi Modi: ravi.modi@manyavar.com — the Manyavar operating domain, not a family-office one.

Bagger-Sørensen: ksh@baggersorensen.com confirmed. Our second probe had wrongly called it bounced; our probe IP is Spamhaus-listed, so Clay is the better evidence here.

Cost

Ran as one batch of 10 first, then the rest, ~1.1 credits per row. No upgrade, no plan change, no payment detail entered, and Clay never blocked on credits.
